DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 9 - 10 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combined teachings of Sakurai et al (US5076276) and any one of Costin

Art Unit: 3768

(US5520633) or Sekino et al (US6383183). Sakurai et al is directed to an ultrasound puncture system having handpiece, probe with cover tube, power source 41 and thresholded impedance detection circuit as shown in Fig.2. Although thresholding is set in Sakurai et al as a function of presence of fluid as determining a critical minimal loading state per col. 8 lines 1 – 30, it would have been obvious in view of Costin col. 5 lines 3-48 to regulate both aspiration and applied power as a function of detected impedance whereupon it would have been inherently obvious not to destroy unintended tissue structures not part of the eye being operated on. Additionally a digital embodiment using mapping values is contemplated per col. 9 lines 24 – 64. In the alternative, Sekino et al in col. 9 line 32 – col. 10 line 5 suggests that impedance feedback using graph thresholds may result in interrupted power application with periods of zero power application to avoid heating effects.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 – 8 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicants arguments with respect to claims 9 and 10 are not well taken since both the references represent lavage functions requiring pump circulation and the ultrasound devices having a vibratory tissue disruptive effect are capable of puncturing a biological wall.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3768

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
